ELECTRONIC RECORDS AND SIGNATURE DISCLOSURE

Carlisle Homes Pty. Ltd. would like your consent so that both you and us (Carlisle Homes) can sign paperwork electronically. This makes the process quicker and easier and it's more environmentally friendly.

Electronic Signatures are legal for most types of documents in Australia under both Commonwealth and State / Territory Electronic Transactions Acts (ETA).

By agreeing to sign electronically, you also agree to receive electronic copies of these documents for your records instead of paper. Copies of the document will be emailed to your email address (from which you signed) once everyone has signed. You can also download or print a copy from the signing screen before signing or before clicking Finish. You can sign from a mobile device or desktop computer, whichever is easiest for you.

To consent to use electronic signatures simply check the checkbox to indicate agreement and you will be able to complete and sign the document. Once you've signed where indicated click Finish and you're done. If you have questions, you can simply reply to the email you were sent. From the signing screen choose Other Actions and click Finish Later if you have entered any data or signatures you would like to save and come back to later.

If you'd like to send someone a copy of the document before signing, simply download a copy to send to that person. It isn't a good idea to forward the email with the link as they might unintentionally sign on your behalf (with your name) and we're fairly sure you don't want that.

Thank You – Carlisle Homes
